NO CITIZEN EYER RECEIVED SUCH IMPOSING WELCOME The reception accorded Mr. Bryan hen be landed in this city te-day is imparabled in our history; indeed. It is doubted whether any priente citizen ever received such a welcome citizen ever received such a welcome hack to his own country.

General Grant vanquished the greatest soldier of modern thines, was twice elected to the highest of all effices traveled around the globe, receiving distinguished homors at the hands of potentiales and princes, yet his return home was almost uninoticed as compared to the reception given by Beyan to-day.

AUDIENCE GREETING HM

IS WILDLY ENTHUSIASTIC The audience to single was widdy endustastic. The crowd through which Mr. Beyon ride up Broadway was decidedly the reverse. It was cold. There was serietly a choor to warm the heart of the returning trees.

Maybe the speciators were not sympathetic; maybe they were silent just because they were New Yorkers, cynical and self-satisfied. It was frost. I haven't yer selved the meaning of it all. There is no precedent by which to estimate the true meaning or significance of this welcome to Bryan. It is the most remarkable phenomenon in the history of our political parties.

That a man who has been twice defeated for the presidency, the last time more signally than the first; who has never held public office but four years and then only in the humble and the more of loss conventional capacity of member of Congress; who has been only a private citizen for cleven years, should be able to arouse such a wide-special outburst of enthusiasm and such a wonderful demonstration as that witnessed here to-day, is beyond explanation, it would be beyond belief had I not seen with my own eyes and heard with my own eyes and with my own eyes and heard with my own eyes and with my own eyes and with my ow
